Treasurer's Report.

At a recent meeting of the A. A. Board Treasurer Harrington submitted his report of receipts and expenses to date. The outlay for base-ball goods was as follows:

Base-balls	$84.00
Bats	16.60
Masks	5.33
Mits
Brown Suits for Sr
Green " "	67.87
Cardinal Suits for Jr	67.87
Total	$327.09

The Tennis expenses this year amounted to $54.20. The report shows the Association to be 69 cents in debt; in order that this might not in any way retard the great National game, the board unanimously decided to borrow $100. With this amount everything can be carried on to perfection, and with a full treasury in September the debt can be easily wiped out.

AT a special meeting of the board an "All Star" team was chosen to play St. Lawrence at Lafayette on Decoration Day.

This team was made up of the best of St. Joe's players and no doubt an easy victory would have been theirs; but after all preparations had been made and the team was ready to start, a telegram from the manager at Lafayette stated that owing to the heavy rain the grounds were in such condition that it would be impossible to play. It is to be hoped that a game can be arranged with that team in the near future as St. Joe is anxious to avenge the defeat which they received at the hands of Lafayette last year.

ABOUT the 11th of June the distinctions for basket ball and base ball will be distributed. The board has already made a selection, and placed their order lest the winners might be disappointed, since it takes some time to make the buttons and at this season of the year the novelty houses are very busy.

"AMONG THE JUNIORS."

The Junior League is now at its best. The interest waxes warmer from day to day and according to all present calculations a great wind-up is expected. The Doves lead in the percentage by two victories but their recent defeat received from the Giants has placed confidence into the other teams and they are expecting to pull them down another notch. The Cubs and the Reds are fighting hard for second honors whilst the Pirates and Giants must be contented with their second division positions. Two more weeks of playing may produce wonderful changes in the standing, but according to the present outlook the pennant will be awarded to the Doves. The playing of the Juniors this year has been exceptionally good and we must take particular notice of their heavy batting.

THE LEAGUE.

At no time in the history of St. Joseph's college has our league, or better our leagues, been in better condition than this year. The seniors have five good, hardworking teams, and the race for honors is still undecided. The juniors, likewise, play good ball and are showing up some good material for our future reps. Nor are the amateurs less worthy of praise than their fellow players. They are well organized and evenly matched; they have brought out the worth of several of the members who will be able to mount up higher next season.

Many reasons can be assigned for the success of our teams. To the Director of the athletics, Father Saurer, the most credit is due for the untiring efforts to make athletics a great success; at the same time we must not overlook the work of the General Manager, John Trench, and his various assistants. The managers of the teams also, have spared neither time nor efforts in order to get the best results that could be obtained.

With this issue the DIAMOD DUST closes up for the year 1911. The Staff wishes to all the patrons and subscribers a happy vacation and a safe return to their work next year.

POETS' CORNER.

One Good Turn Deserves Another Come all ye fakers if you want to hear, A story about a bum singer, Andrew Sabados was the singer's name, Bumming tobacco, boys, he won his fame.

He was to sing at the "Hinky Dink"
Ere he began, he bummed a drink:
Mounted to the bar while on a jag,
And then boys, he sang that famous
Chilasauce Rag.
Leo Campeau.

CLASS PROPHECY.

(Clipping from the Tribune.)

July 4, 1925. The class of 1911, St. Joseph's College, Collegeville, Ind. met at the Kaiserhof last evening, and there renewed old acquaintances. The opening address was given by Chas. O'Leary editor of the New York Sun. Mr. Blottman followed with a solo, entitled "There's One Wide River to Cross." Carl Becker, President of the Philosophical Research Society, spoke on "Why Little Fish Shine in a Crystal Brook." Mr. Becker has developed into quite a noted philosopher, and while engaged in his deep researches into the hidden secrets of Cosmology and Psychology, he has discovered why people grow old. According to Mr. Becker's theory, it is because they do not sail toy boats on the little lakes. Good old Father Carmody was the next to address the old class. Shortly after leaving College, Carmody, or Lux Beata, as he was known at school, entered the Seminary, and in due time was ordained. Among the other speakers of the evening were Gus Berghoff, President of the Central National Bank. Beau Trench, the barber and manager of the Cubs, Joe Cavanaugh, L. Fiely, principal of the Minster schools. John Meyer, L. L. D., President of Canisius College; H. J. Hipskind, B. S., Lieut. Governor of Wyoming; "Dud" Riley, manager of the Lew Field's Minstrels; Ed. J. Welter, chief mechanic of Pennsylvania R. R.; Leo Martin, advance agent for the Premier Automobile Co.; and Thomas Kennedy, owner of the E. P. Ross factory.

LOCALS.

Prof. to Gantner—"Who slew the giant Goliath?"

Gantner—Why-er-lemme see. Prof. — Come now, that's an easy question.

Gantner—Oh! it ain't the question that bothers me, it's the answer.

Harrison to Kennedy: — You know the poet says, a man must be either the hammer or the anvil, but I know one more like a bellows.

Fiely—Say Osterloh, when was the war of 1812?

Osterloh—Don't bother me, I don't know.

Cull Martin—Of what disease will a cold water hobiest die?

Daniels—Just what your going to die of.

Martin—What's that?

Daniels—Water on the brain.

Vic to Karl (his nest) — Karl, I blief dot I am schust as purty as anybody else in Collegeville. Don't you think so?

Karl—Why sure, Savonarola wouldn't even stand a show with you.

Leo Welch—Did Moses live before or after Adam?

B. Kennedy—After.

Prof.—Tell the class the story about the Three Kings.

Kussmaul—Once there were three kings and one hit the other in the eye. He saw a star and they all followed it until it stopped.

Mellady wants to know if Evangeline's works are in the library.
